

THE PIOCIE WEEKLY RECORD.

VOL. XLVIII.

PIOCHE, NEVADA, THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 15, 1898

NO. 37.

Both A. C. Cleveland and his immediate friends will find it hard to forgive his too ardent but ill advised supporters at Reno for forcing his name before the Silver Party State convention for nomination as Governor. Cleveland has always said he would not be a candidate for that office, but his name was presented on the last day, by the White Pine delegation, without any apparent authority from their principal, the party most interested, and with nothing to justify their action but a desire to break what they chose to term a "slate," and thus demonstrate to the state at large their power. It was a very unwise move on their part though even after defeat they would not admit it. If Mr. Cleveland had signified at any time within the past month that he wanted the nomination he could had it. If he had even attended the convention the result might have been different; but with nothing before the convention to urge in justification of their action but their own desire for success, it is not to be wondered at that the pushers of the movement failed.

The Democratic State Convention.
The Democrats acted true blue throughout at their Convention at Reno on the 8th inst. The sentiment all along before meeting was to fuse for this campaign with the Silver Party of the state, and all the Democrats asked was that they be allowed to nominate State Controller and one Regent of the University. When it was understood that the Silver Party would agree to this the Democrats, true to past history immediately disagreed among themselves and went to the verge of a shooting scrape in open session, on who should receive the nomination for the two offices and finally stood out altogether and put up almost an entire ticket.

The Populists at their convention in the same town the day following attempted to do likewise and the Republicans today are expected to do the same, thus there will be no lack of material at the head of the ticket this fall for voters to select from.

The nominations of the State Silver Party are not expected to satisfy everybody, especially those directly opposed to the party politically, but plenty of favorable comment is heard upon the nominations all over the State. Most of the men have been tried already and have proven satisfactory or they would not be endorsed by the party again. It is the winning ticket all right enough for this fall.

Richard Harding Davis gives a graphic description in the New York Herald of a Brooklyn boy, terribly wounded by a bullet at the attack on Matanzas. The bullet had entered his arm, passed through his right side, and came out under the left armpit. The operation lasted two hours, and when completed he was carried to a cot so weak that for a time he seemed as if dead; but in a few moments he opened his eyes and turned them to the operating table, where, he remembered in a half-drunken way, they had placed him two hours before. His eyes were dazed with the ether, his lips were blue and his face was a ghastly gray. He looked up at the four figures leaning over him, their bare arms covered with his blood, and back at the operating table that dripped with it. What had happened, who had attacked him, and why, he could not comprehend. He did not know that parts of him had been taken out and held up naked, palpitating and bleeding, to the ruthless light of the sun, to the gaze of curious messmates crowded at the end of the sick bay, that these parts of himself had been picked over and handled as a man runs his fingers over the keys of a piano, and had then been pushed and wedged back into place and covered over as one would sew a patch on an old outfit.

He only knew that some outrageous thing had been done to him that he had been in a nightmare, in hell, and still drunk with ether, these men whose wonderful surgery had saved his life were only the bloody assassins who had attempted it and failed.

He was pitifully weak from loss of much blood, from the shock of the heavy bullet that had dug its way through his body, from the waves of nausea that swept over him, but the boy opened his eyes and regarded the surgeons scornfully. Then he shook his head from side to side on the pillow and smiled up at them.

"Ah, you've can't kill me," he whispered, "I'm a New Yorker, by God! You've can't kill me."

A Sure Thing for You.

A transaction in which you cannot lose is a sure thing. Biliousness, sick headache, furred tongue, fever, piles and a thousand other ills are caused by constipation and sluggish liver. Cascarella's Candy Cathartic the wonderful new liver stimulant and intestinal tonic are by all druggists guaranteed to cure or money refunded. C. C. C. are a sure thing. Try a box to-day: 10c, 25c, 50c. Sample and booklet free.

UTAH AND PACIFIC GRADE.

Engineers Make A Report on Their Survey.
C. W. Nibley of Baker City, Or., who is one of the projectors and incorporators of the Utah & Pacific, is in Salt Lake. He says that the engineers have returned from the survey of the old grade from Milford to Stateline. They found it in good condition except at points where it was intended to put in culverts. At these places, all told, about 17,000 cubic yards of dirt has been washed away. This however, can be replaced, within a short time.

A Wicked Editor.

An editor who died of starvation was being escorted to heaven by an angel who had been sent for that purpose.
"May I look at the other place before I ascend to eternal happiness?" asked the editor.
"Easy."
So they went below and skirmished around taking in the sights. The angel lost track of the editor and went around Hades to hunt him up. He found him by a big furnace fanning himself and gazing with rapture upon a lot of people in the fire. There was a sign on the furnace which read, "Delinquent Subscribers."

"You go on," said the editor, "I am not coming. This is heaven enough for me."

Great Railroad Developments.

A new enterprise is about to be entered upon in California which will look to the completion of the Valley road with the Santa Fe ultimate the completion of the Oregon Short Line through Nevada to Los Angeles.

The first step in this move will be the organization of a new company to carry the Valley road from Bakersfield through Tehachapi mountains to the Santa Fe system, thus completing a transcontinental line to San Francisco; then it will connect with the Oregon Short Line, which will be built from Milford Utah, and then it will be pushed to Los Angeles.

The road from Milford is to be pushed to Pioche, and thence through southern Nevada. A traffic arrangement will then be entered into between the Short Line, the Valley road and the Santa Fe which will give the Oregon Short Line a terminus at Los Angeles and the Valley road an outlet to the East by the Suort Line and Santa Fe.

THE NEWSPAPER LAW.

All Subscribers Should Read the Following Law and Avoid Trouble.

1. All subscribers who do not give express notice to the contrary are considered wishing to continue their subscriptions.

2. If subscribers order the discontinuance of their periodical the publisher may continue to send it until all arrearages are paid.

3. If subscribers refuse or neglect to take their periodicals from the office to which they are directed, they are responsible until they have settled their bills and ordered them discontinued.

4. Subscriber moving to other places without informing the publisher, and the papers are sent to the former address, they are held responsible.

5. The courts have decided that refusing to take periodicals from the office or removing and leaving them uncollected for, is prima facie evidence of intended fraud.

6. If subscribers pay in advance they are bound to give notice at the end of the time they do not wish to continue taking it, and the subscriber will be responsible until an express notice with all arrearages are sent to the publisher.

7. The latest postal laws are such that newspaper publishers can arrest anyone for fraud who take a paper and refuses to pay for it.

Under the law the man who allows his subscription to run along some time unpaid, and then orders the postmaster to mark it "refused" and have a postal card sent notifying the publisher, leaves himself liable to arrest and fine, the same as for theft.

To Cure Constipation Forever.

Take Cascarella's Candy Cathartic 10 or 25c. If C. C. C. fails to cure, druggists refund money.

An Irish gentleman was recently attended by an eminent London physician, who, pausing and looking at him with an inquiring glance, said:

"I should like to know, sir, if your family have been long-lived?"
"Long-lived, is it?" responded the patient, thoughtfully. "Well, doctor, I'll just tell you how it is: Our family is a West of Ireland family, and the age of my ancestors depended entirely on the judge and jury who tried them."

Two Millions a Year.

When people buy, try, and buy again it means they're satisfied. The people of the United States are now buying Cascarella's Candy Cathartic at the rate of two million boxes a year and it will be three million before New Year's. It means merit proved that Cascarella's are the most delightful bowel regulator for everybody the year around. All druggists 10c, 25c, 50c a box, cure guaranteed.

It was thought a misunderstanding that the Botsford checks given on the cattle purchase here last month were not promptly paid on presentation at the Denver bank. Botsford had arranged to handle the cattle through a firm there, but the firm went back on the arrangements and the checks, arriving as they did before Botsford himself, who was with the cattle were protested. Upon the first notice of the fact Botsford promptly arranged for payment and proposed to make other cattle purchases here this fall.

MISCELLANEOUS ITEMS.

The city council of Murray, Ky., has passed an ordinance making a fine of five dollars the penalty for stopping a coal-oil jug with a corn cob.

Ever since December, 1896, earthquake shocks have been of almost daily occurrence at Montserrat, West Indies, some of them severe enough to overthrow buildings.

Yucatan is a compound Indian name meaning, "What do you say?" which was the only answer the Spaniards could obtain from the natives to their inquiries concerning a description of the country.

A Brooklyn cook, on the verge of an engagement by a new mistress, insisted on receiving the name and address of the lady's former cook, that she might call on her and learn the character of the mistress before accepting employment.

A Michigan man has designed an identification tag which cannot be destroyed by fire or water, the outer casing being made of metal and carrying an asbestos tablet in which the name is stamped. The tablet is covered by a metal cap, and the tag can be attached to the body by an asbestos strap.

A writer in Temple Bar says that the net result of the German old-age pension system is that a man must live as best he can until he is 70, and then content himself for the rest of his life with an allowance of some two shillings a week, if he belongs to the first class, with a trifle more if to the second, third, or fourth class.

A mouse skipped across a classroom in public school No. 42, New York city. An eight-year-old girl saw it and screamed. Then several children who had not seen it also screamed, and one of them shouted "Fire!" and in five minutes the engines were at the door, a platoon of police and 4,000 people in the street, many of them invoking the Almighty to save their children. It was fully two hours before the panic was over. The mouse escaped.

At the medical congress recently held at Wiesbaden, Dr. Saenger delivered a lecture on the utility of the nose in preventing injurious things from getting into the lungs. He declared that many cases of consumption would be much more amenable to treatment if physicians paid more attention to the condition of the nasal apparatus for filtering air, which is apt to get out of order.

The Trans-Mississippi and International Congress is composed of delegates from every State and Territory West of the Mississippi river. The idea of this exposition originated in that Congress at its session at Omaha in 1895, and the project has become a National enterprise and the National Commission has been organized and is in active service, there being one commissioner for each of the several departments of the Government. Most of the Trans-Mississippi States are well along in the way of gathering exhibits from their respective States and many of them have made liberal appropriations, while others are preparing exhibits through private enterprise.

Vice-President H. B. Maxson of Reno, has made arrangements whereby he can get Nevada exhibits, shipped from any point in the State along the line of the C. P. R. R. to Omaha and return, and he requests all persons who wish the interests of the State advertised, to co-operate with the Exposition County Commissioner of his county, whose name is shown above, and prepare some product of his county and send it to the nearest point on the C. P. R. R. from which place it will be sent to Omaha and exhibited, and returned to the same point at the close of the exposition, free of expense to the exhibitor. Full information should accompany everything sent for exhibition. Before sending anything to the line of the railroad a full description should be given to the Exposition Commissioner of the county, who in turn will notify the Vice-President, who will notify him what action to take, otherwise there might be many duplications. Apply to your County Representative for further information, and don't let this opportunity of advertising the resources of Nevada be lost.
